Meet Reveals Many New Union Ideas

The seven MSU students who attended the Pacific Northwest Regional Conference of the National Association of College Unions at Whitman college in Walla Walla, Wash., last week got many new ideas for running a student union.

Some of the more important ideas are: (1) the student union is not only a place for the students but a place for the faculty; (2) there should be more activities in the student union for faculty and students combined, such as lectures, forums and coffee hours; (3) at Washington State and the University of Washington many activities originate in the student union and work their way down to other organizations with lectures and small discussion groups; and (4) at several colleges attending the conference, leadership courses are offered for credit. The courses teach the running of student government, duties of committee chairmen and other subjects dealing with the problems of campus leadership.

Don Chaney, Livingston, president of ASMSU, one of seven MSU students who attended the meeting, said that the possibility of establishing leadership courses at MSU would be investigated.

A complete report will be made at today's meeting of the Student Union Executive committee.

Stan Nicholson Leads Growlers

Stan Nicholson, Missoula, was unanimously elected president of the Grizzly Growlers yesterday. Gretchen Huber, Helena, was elected secretary.

Marcia Smith, Missoula, reported the flash-card section for the Grizzly-Bobcat game Nov. 13 will include 250 seats in the middle of the east bleachers. Cards to flash greetings to the west bleachers are red, white, blue, and yellow. Several symbols have been worked out by the committee.

Johan Miller, Fairview, emphasized that students who sit in the hard section must wear white shirts.

Growlers will wrap the goalposts prior to the MSC game.

Midge Weikert, Somers, was appointed by Nicholson to be chairman of the publicity committee.

Two yells were taught to the group by the MSU cheerleaders.

Nicholson, Riddle, Smith Elected By 328 Freshmen

'bout the Size of It

IRC will sponsor a coffee hour for students to meet the Exchange students and get acquainted with IRC, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in LA 306.

Future programs will be outlined and the meeting will be over in time for the concert. Everyone is invited and anyone, regardless of their major, may join IRC, according to John Beam, Missoula, president.

Jim Farrell, who drove a car into a tree near here and is still in the hospital, has these words for his campus friends: "Drive carefully."

Audra Browman, Missoula, edged Patti Forzley, Seattle, Wash., by two votes yesterday to become freshman secretary in the tightest race of the freshman elections. Forty-one per cent of the freshman class voted, four per cent less than in the primary, Oct. 26.

Candidates landing on the top of the election heap were Stan Nicholson, Missoula; Central board delegate; Dick Riddle, Libby, president; Marcia Smith, Missoula, vice president; Sandra Fisk, Seattle, Wash., treasurer, and Miss Browman, secretary.

In the Central board race, Nicholson received 174 votes and Larry Nitz, Red Lodge, 149. Riddle defeated Don Erickson, Power, for the office of president by 36 votes. Riddle received 181, Erickson, 145. Miss Smith received 175 votes and Mary Travis, Havre, 151, for the office of vice president. Miss Browman had 165 votes and Miss Forzley 163 for secretary; Miss Fisk, 171, and Marg Hammer, Stanford, 151, for treasurer.

Of a total of 808 freshmen, 328 voted. In the primary elections last week, 362 voters turned out.

ROTC Elects 19 Co-Eds To Corps

Nineteen freshman co-eds were informed today of their election to ROTC Sponsor corps. They were elected by ROTC students attending a dance Friday night for the 38 finalists. Prior to the dance, a screening and eliminating was done by a board of upperclass members of the corps, and eight ROTC students.

New members are: Sue Adams, Molly McCullough, Marjorie Spaulding, Joan McFarland, and Sue Garlington, Missoula; Patsy Bender, Marcia Brown, and Lynn McCaffrey, Butte; Darlene Glantz and Thea Williams, Billings; Mary Travis and Joan Griffin, Havre; Patti Bolton, Kalispell; Caroly Staniger, Helena; Pat Adams, Park City; Thea deMers, Arlee; Betty Fuller, Winifred; and Sandra Fisk and Patti Forzley, Seattle.

Initiation will be held Monday, according to Joan Hoff, Butte.

Law Keglers Retain Lead Over TX in I-M League

Law school bowlers retained first place in the Intramural league Saturday by sweeping three games from Sigma Phi Epsilon. The Lawyers are the only undefeated team, boasting a 9-0 record, followed closely by Theta Chi with an 8½-½ mark.

Other teams taking three-game series Saturday were Phi Delta Theta from Forestry, Sigma Nu from Alpha Tau Omega, and Theta Chi from Sigma Chi. Jumbolaya, Craig, and Phi Epsilon Kappa took two out of three from Phi Sigma Kappa, Jumbo, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, respectively.

Bob McGilhon, Jumbolaya, has turned in the highest season's average—183 pins, followed by Don Horn, Craig, with 172. Other high season bowlers include Purcell, 169; Mogstad, 169; Brockway, 167; and Ron Rundle, 166.

The Law keglers have downed 4938 pins for a game average of 822.

The standings: Law 9-0, TX 8½-½, Craig 5-1, PDT 7-2, SN 7-2, PSK 6-3, Jumbolaya 4-5, SX 3-6, SPE 3-6, Jumbo 2½-6½, ATO 2-7, PEK 2-7, SAE 1-8, and Forestry 0-9.

McFarland Releases Thanksgiving Schedule

Thanksgiving vacation will begin at noon Wednesday, Nov. 24 and continue until 8 a.m. Monday, Nov. 29, according to a bulletin released by President McFarland's office yesterday.

In part the notice said, "In keeping with the time honored custom, students are to be given the Wednesday afternoon preceding and the Friday following Thanksgiving as part of their holiday, with the strict understanding that they will not miss classes Wednesday morning and will return for the first classes Monday."

All full-time office employees will get a half-holiday in addition to Thanksgiving day, but the absences will be staggered so that offices will be open at all times.

Fewer Convo's Set This Year

Dr. Luther A. Richman, dean of the Fine Arts college and chairman of the convocation committee, said yesterday that there are no plans for an all-school convocation before December.

He added, however, that his committee would call a convocation whenever it felt that there was some pressing need for one or when someone appeared on campus with something of interest to the student body.

Dr. Richman said that last year there was a convocation nearly every month, but that attendance was poor. This factor alone, he said, is not the cause of the present policy. He stressed the point that convocations would be called when they were of general interest.

The December convocation, which will be the Christmas program, probably will be Dec. 10.

Off the UP Wire . . . South, Southwest Elect 11 Demos In Fourth Report

As the Fourth Election . . .

...roundup came in last night the race for 37 senate seats was coming more clearly into focus. Democrats already had won the 11 contests thus decided . . . but except for Delaware those seats all were in the South and Southwest. Adlai Stevenson said . . .

...early last night that Democratic leaders informed him they were winning the election in a landslide. If true, it would be the first such victory the Democrats have won in an off-year when they were out of office.

On the Republican side, National Chairman Leonard Hall, who hoped for a big turnout, said the turnout was tremendous. But, Hall said it was impossible to say what the outcome would be.

In the Fourth Montana . . .

...roundup last night Murray led Dewart by 799 votes in returns from 35 out of 1094 precincts in Montana. At the same time Democratic incumbent Lee Metcalf was leading his Republican opponent for Western district congress, Missoula's Winfield E. Page by 1086 votes.

In the race for Eastern district congress, State Senator Leroy Anderson, Conrad, was leading his Republican opponent, Orvin Fjare.

DeVry Educator Speaks Today

Charles R. Crakes, educational consultant for DeVry Technical Institute, Chicago, will give a series of talks today in the School of Education, according to Henry Knapp, assistant professor of education.

"Occupational Opportunities for American Youth" will be the subject of talks at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. in BE 211. In the same room at 3 p.m. Crakes will discuss "Current Trends in the Audio-Visual Movement."

Crakes has given talks to over 900 educational, religious, and civic organizations. He is stopping over at the University while enroute to a teachers' convention at Yakima, Wash. His experience as an educator includes services as public school superintendent and principal of various secondary schools. This summer he taught in the School of Education at Northwestern university.

Independents Choose Hellinger, Elect Ten For Advisory Board

Dean Hellinger, Devon, leads the new Independent Students association as president with Bill Saunders, Butte, vice-president; Penelope LaFlame, Crenora, N.D., secretary, and Jim Purcell, Butte, business manager.

A standing committee that will act as an advisory board to the president about matters to be brought to the attention of the organization was also elected at the meeting Monday night. It is a 10-person committee composed of two members from each class, one from the graduate school and one from the veterans group.

The students elected to the standing committee were: Audra Browman, Missoula, and Shirley Richmond, Ekalaka, freshmen; Walt Gerson, Big Sandy, and Myra Corbitt, Baker, sophomores; Dick Johnson, Chicago, Ill., and Reva Taylor, Missoula, juniors; Russ Pfohl, Deer Lodge, and Donna Border, East Glacier Park, seniors; Cal Calton, Worland, Wyo., graduate school, and Gary White, Missoula, veterans group.

The veterans representative is temporary until the University of Montana Veterans club sends a representative from their organization.

Hellinger took over the meeting and read a letter from Charles Hoff, regional advisor of the Rocky Mountain Region Independent Students association, which explained in part the purpose of the organization. The association covers the states of Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Arizona, Colorado, North Dakota, South Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Kansas.

Hellinger asked the secretary to write to Hoff for more information of the organization.

Two members of the Independents were recommended to Central board to serve on the honor system committee. They are Allen Kelley, Greenfield, Mass., and Donna Border, East Glacier Park.

The Independents will meet again next Monday to elect members to their various committees.

State Wage, Employment Gains Listed by Bureau

The October issue of "Montana Business," published by the Bureau of Business and Economic Research on campus, shows that employment in Montana's non-agricultural industries covered by unemployment insurance increased 57 per cent between 1939 and 1953, while wages paid increased 310 per cent. Employment increased from 68,300 to 107,200 and wages from $90.3 million to $370.7 million. The article in "Montana Business" discussed the growth of employment since 1939 among industry groups in Montana.

A Mistake To Be Corrected

Lack of school spirit is definitely a major problem at MSU—more so than at most Skyline schools. Even our country cousins from MSC could, and probably will, drown out Grizzly rosters this year. Of course, in their case, a seven-game winning streak is contributive.

We can continually harp about school spirit and continue to get few results from an indifferent student body. Campus leaders can organize groups and discuss the matter, but that's no good unless someone pursues it further.

The athletic department should be the last group on campus to pass up an opportunity to promote school spirit. But this year they certainly missed the boat.

Every time the football team takes a trip by air there are nine or 10 vacant seats in the two chartered planes. The seats are filled by Missoula businessmen who have supported the Grizzlies, monetarily or otherwise.

These businessmen deserve something for the assistance they have given MSU athletics. But, why shouldn't some students be taken on each trip also? Student spirit would increase, especially among those making the trips. This enthusiasm would be transmitted to other students and a good foundation would be laid for building esprit de corps.

Don Chaney, ASMSU president, was not contacted at all this year on the possibility of taking students on the trips. Plane trips have been made to Brigham Young university at Provo, Utah, and to Colorado A&M at Fort Collins, Colo. The squad will leave for Albuquerque, N.M., Friday at 9 a.m. on their final plane trip this season. Paul Chumrau, athletic business manager, said all the seats are committed for that trip. No students are going.

The possibility of building school spirit for MSU athletics by letting students travel with the team has been overlooked this year. The same mistake should not be made in future years.—B.N.

Freeman Disagrees With Forman, Says Voters Confused, Disgusted

Dear Editor:

Mr. Peterson's clear-voiced letter on football policy in last Tuesday's Kaimin was well booted around in a later issue. I would like to take a boot at Mr. Forman's interesting article on politics in the same issue.

Mr. Forman is concerned about the apathy of citizens who won't go to the polls. He suggests they might be aroused by a threat to take away their voting privilege. He ventures too that there might be more genuine interest in elections if the two parties were more sharply differentiated. "Who," he asks, "can list the clear-cut differences between the Democrats and the G.O.P.?"

Party Positions Are Different

I wonder if this is the main trouble? It seems to me that if a group of students had invited Mr. Metcalf and Mr. Page to the campus for an open discussion they would have quickly seen there was a substantial difference between their political positions. President Eisenhower telegraphed that Senator Murray's political philosophy was fundamentally different from his, and in view of the fact that Mr. D'Ewart has boasted of the support of Senator McCarthy.

It seems to me that we might better concern ourselves with the voter's confusion or disgust than with his apathy. Our present campaigns are a din of superficial analysis, excessive claims, wild charges and nasty names—repeated ad nauseam. One way out of this would be to achieve some genuinely good political discussion. Good political discussion can normally be achieved through newspapers and public forums.

Hope For Free Press

I shall pass here, but I do not abandon the hope that some day Montana will have more major newspapers with editors who have the freedom to express their convictions on local and state issues as well as on national and international issues, and the courage and generosity to invite disagreement in open columns of their papers. Such a step forward would range us, newspaperwise, with the other more civilized states of the union.

Forums On Next Election

In the meantime, what of forums? Mr. Metcalf and Mr. Page are the two most likely contenders for the Western Montana congressional seat in 1956, are they not? Would it not be feasible for a campus forum organization to invite these two men—and perhaps many others—to participate in a series of discussions on political issues on the campus between now and the fall of 1956?

We do not have much chance as collegians to change national party lines or to lessen the restrictions on our newspapers. But we could by a stubborn effort, set up a process for our own political enlightenment, and the process might spread, slowly. Something like this must happen! Montana students are too good to spend their congregated emotions on fraternities and football and then be graduated into a vulgar and poisonous atmosphere like that over our state this last month.

Grizzlies Rank High Offensively in National Gridiron Statistics

Although the Montana Grizzlies aren't winning on the gridiron, they prove to be one of the better offensive teams in the nation on paper. The Montanans are 15th in the nation in total offense. In 10 games they have gained 1443 yards on 246 plays, giving them a per-game average of 240.5 yards.

Individual team members are also in the spot-light. Joe DeLuca is the only Skyline guard selected by the Associated Press and football writers of America as a candidate for All-American. Dick Imer still ranks fifth among national ground-gainers with 641 yards gained in 64 attempts. He places 18th in national total offense and leads the MSU scorers with 45 tallies to his credit.

Murdo Campbell is second among the MSU ball carriers with 372 yards in 55 tries for a 6.8 average. He has scored 30 points. Dale Shupe ranks third with 12 points and 181 yards from 33 carries. Bill Gue has 130 yards to his credit on 18 plays for a 7.2 average.

Dick Heath leads in the passing department, having completed 27 passes in 68 attempts for a yardage gain of 393 and two TDs. Dick Imer has snagged five aeriels for 89 yards and one touchdown while George Samuelson has grabbed five passes, gaining 83 yards.

Nationally, Luppino, Arizona, leads in rushing with 892 yards followed by Moore, Penn State, 717; Bayuk, Colorado, 681; Bell, Army, 660; and Imer. Mahaffey, Denver, is tenth and Tesone, also Denver, is 20th.

In total offense, Shaw of Oregon ranks first with 1245 yards from

SAE Edges SPE To Hold 'B' Lead In I-M Football

By JOE CROSS

Sigma Alpha Epsilon maintained its first place standing in the "B" division of the intramural football league by edging Sigma Phi Epsilon, 6-0 Tuesday afternoon. Other action, all in the "B" league, saw second-place Jumbolaya knock off the Craig Stranglers, 21-0, and Jumbo Hall swamp Theta Chi, 32-0.

SAE 6, SPE 0

The lone SAE touchdown came in the second period when center Harry Manuel intercepted an SPE pass and rambled for the score. The win was undefeated SAE's fourth straight and pushed SPE further into the cellar.

Jumbolaya 21, Stranglers 0

End Hal Webb scored two touchdowns and halfback Tom Pomroy one TD in Jumbolaya's 21-0 win

203 plays. Other leaders (in order) are Larson, California, 1117; Dawson, Purdue, 894; Luppino, Arizona, 892; Glick, Colorado A&M, 876; Fairly, Denver, 850; Day, Mississippi, 745; Moore, Penn State, 717; Freeman, Auburn, 717; and Villaneuva, UCLA, 705.

Dungan, Utah, places 17th in forward passing with 36 completions in 68 attempts for 419 yards and two TDs.

Terpening of New Mexico is the nation's leading punter with a 45-yard average on 29 kicks. Ross of Denver ranks ninth in pass receiving having caught 18 for 307 yards and four touchdowns.

Skyline candidates for "Colliers'" All-American team are: Ends—Carter, Wyoming; Ross, Denver; Nellestein, Utah; and Probert, BYU; guards—DeLuca, Montana; tackles—Harvat, Denver; Henderson, Utah; and Kragthorpe, USAC; centers—Tavener, Colorado A&M; Kochevar, BYU; White, New Mexico; quarterbacks, Mastrogiovanni, Wyoming; Fairly, Denver; and Glick, Colorado A&M; halfbacks—Nakken, Utah; Mahaffey, Denver; Imer; and Oyler, BYU; fullbacks—Galuska, Wyoming, and Mele, Utah.

over the Craig Stranglers. Tackle Paul Cain added two extra points and end Norm Kampschorr one. The win was undefeated Jumbolaya's third straight.

Jumbo 32, TX 0

Jumbo hall, after being held to seven points in the first half, exploded for five touchdowns in the second half to swamp Theta Chi, 32-0. The win evened Jumbo's season record at two wins and two losses and knocked Theta Chi from the undefeated ranks.

The first Jumbo touchdown came in the first period when Harry Ferguson threw a touchdown pass to Nick Boyhem. Jerry McDonald added the extra point. In the third period, Jumbo added two more touchdowns on a run by Bert Moffett and on a pass from Tom McCloskey to Ken Dupuis. McDonald again kicked the extra point. Bob Burns, on an end run, and a pass to Dupuis from Moffett accounted for Jumbo's last two TDs in the fourth period.

Monday's game between Forestry and Alpha Tau Omega was won by Forestry, 2-0, in a California playoff, rather than by ATO as previously reported in the Kaimin. The unbeaten Foresters remain in a first-place tie in the "A" division.

Today's schedule: Field One—Sigma Chi vs. Jumbo (Webb and Kann); Field Two—Jumbolaya vs. Theta Chi (Anderson and Rundle); Field Three—Craig vs. Butte Rates (Olson and Ortingren).

Want a Job After Graduation? Register With Placement Bureau

By CHUCK GREENUP

Do you know what the Placement Bureau is for? Do you know how it can help YOU?

You remember the sign that used to be in front of the Math-Physics building, urging the graduates each quarter to "register with the Placement Bureau now." But most of you may not have realized just what the function of the bureau is, or that it could come day be very valuable to you.

Bureau Has Moved

The Placement Bureau, which has since moved to Room 206, Main Hall, has two departments. One is for business and industrial placement, and the other is for teacher placement. When a student registers, a folder is prepared for him containing sets of confidential papers, which are shown to interested employers.

Using the bureau as a base of operations, the registrant can have papers sent to employers in connection with job applications. This service is free to all students who register before they graduate, but a five-dollar fee is charged if he registers after graduating. Incidentally, December graduates should pick up registration papers immediately.

Teacher Placement

Most teacher placement activity takes place during spring and summer quarters. Vacancies start coming in about March 1st, and these are listed in vacancy books according to subject. Service for teacher placement is continued after the initial job is obtained by the applicant. Papers are kept up to date, listing additional training, experience, and references.

Future teachers may find the maps in the teacher placement office of special interest. These maps have pins indicating the position of teachers who have been placed in the past year through the bureau, most of which are in Montana. An additional map shows locations of 1954 graduates who have been placed in teaching positions.

Interviews Arranged

The Placement Bureau arranges interviews for graduating seniors with school administrators, as well as with representatives of various companies who visit the campus from time to time. It also takes job listings given by employers and files them in a loose-leaf notebook, where they are available to any seniors seeking a job.

Students are invited to come in and browse through a large library of booklets and pamphlets which contain information about job opportunities and job qualifications from many major companies. Students might also be interested in the College Placement Directory which lists the various kinds of jobs which may be found in a company of their choice and, if applicable, the approximate number of college graduates hired each year by that company.

Mrs. Leona Peterson continues as secretary of the Placement Bureau, and will be glad to help anyone who wishes more information.

Religious Emphasis Week Planned for Nov. 14-18

The Publicity committee of the Religious Emphasis Week council has been setting up posters in each of the living groups in preparation for Religious Week, Nov. 14-18. Leslie Brown, Sidney, chairman, said that the purpose of the posters is to put before the students thought-provoking questions which cannot be answered with yes or no.

All six members of the School of Education faculty took part in the five Montana Education association meetings that were held throughout the state last week from Oct. 27 to 29.

Dean Linus Carleton spoke to the southeast district meet in Billings on "Educational Problems."

"Relationships of School Board Administrators and Community," was the topic of a talk given by Dr. Vernon O. Sletten, associate professor, to the northwest district at Wolf Point.

Dr. W. R. Ames, professor, participated in a panel discussion on teacher certification at the southwest meet in Helena. Henry Knapp, assistant professor, presided at an audio-visual aid section also at Helena.

Ben Frost, assistant professor, represented the University at the north central MEA meeting in Great Falls.

Dr. James E. Short, associate professor, was convention chairman of the western district meeting here, and at the same meeting Dr. John F. Staehle, associate professor, was in charge of exhibits.

is Nancy Ettinger, Missoula, who painted the posters.
